

DEATH

Of Dr. W. L. King Who Was Known In Knox Co.

Having Been United In Marriage In Brandon

Expired While Visiting At Old Home In England

(Newark Advocate)

The announcement in the Advocate Thursday evening of the death of Dr. W. L. King of Granville, which occurred in England on Friday, July 2, shocked many people here. Although the Doctor had been in very poor health for some time, no one had any idea that the end was so near, and when he left for his native country, England, it was thought that he would quickly benefit by the salt air of the ocean, and he was buried near his old home.

Dr. Watson Lawrence King was born in Batley, Yorkshire, England, September 18, 1847, his father being vicar at that place. His father, the Rev. Watson King, was born in Waterbury, County Kent, April 8, 1811, and was educated at St. John's College, Cambridge, where he obtained the Master of Arts degree in 1839. For many years he served as chaplain to Maidstone prison, and about 1859 retired with a pension. Dr. W. L. King pursued his early education in Queen Elizabeth's Grammar school at Wakefield and later attended Corpus Christi Hall. He passed a preliminary examination for entrance into the Royal College of Surgeons in London, July 9, 1886, but after a time was obliged to give up the study of medicine owing to ill health and came to America with the intention of following farming. This was in 1870, and he located at Ypsilanti, Mich. His health improving, in 1871-2 he attended a course of lectures in the Michigan University at Ann Arbor and in 1873-4 was a student in the Cincinnati Medical college, from which he was graduated in the latter year. Owing to ill health he returned to England and later matriculated in the University of Glasgow, from which he was graduated in the spring of 1876, on the completion of his medical course. He then became surgeon on the ship Loch Vennachar, bound for Melbourne, Australia. He spent two months in Australia, after which he returned on the same ship and became assistant to Dr. Burman at Wath, Yorkshire. In the fall of 1877 he returned to the United States and located at Fredonia, O., where he practiced until his removal to Granville some thirteen or fourteen years ago, where he enjoyed a good practice. Throughout his professional career he kept in touch with the progress of the medical fraternity through his extensive reading and research while his experience also greatly promoted his efficiency.

On the 24th of December, 1877, Dr. King was married in Brandon, Knox county, Ohio, to Miss Margaretta Knowles of Homer, O., a daughter of William Knowles, a native of Kent county, England. The children of that marriage were Watson Knowles, who died in infancy; and Louisa Elizabeth, who became the wife of Louis Pine of Newark. Having lost his first wife, Dr. King afterward wedded Emma Viola Barber, a native of Liberty township, Licking county, and a daughter of James Riley Barber. His second wife died a few months ago. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Pine, who was with him at the time of his death.

Dr. King was a member of the Masonic fraternity and of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows. He was also a prominent and active worker in the Episcopal church of which he for many years served as senior warden and treasurer. During his life he circumvented the globe and in his extensive travels gained that knowledge and culture which only travel can bring. He was a genial, courteous gentleman, interested in all that pertains to general progress and his influence was always a potent factor for good.

Other Items Of Interest From Temple Of Justice

As a result of an automobile accident which occurred in Riverside park some weeks ago, Dan Camp is suing Frank L. Young in the Knox county common pleas court for $1,093.50. The plaintiff alleges that on the night of June 13, 1911, the defendant was operating a large touring car and that the defendant stopped his machine in Riverside park to repair a puncture. The allegation was made that the automobile was drawn up along the side of the driveway in the park and that when the defendant was repairing the puncture he failed and neglected to lower his gas lamps, and the plaintiff who was coming through the park in his automobile became confused on account of the position of the defendant's car and to avoid crashing into the machine of the defendant he turned to the side and drove his automobile into a tree. The plaintiff states that as a result of the contact he was thrown against the steering wheel and two of his ribs were broken. In addition the automobile was damaged to the amount of $93.50. The plaintiff therefore asks for damages in the sum of $1,000, for $93.50, alleged damages to his car. Owen and Carr represent the plaintiff.

Smith pleaded guilty when arraigned before Justice Harter and was fined $10 and costs. The fine was suspended on condition that the defendant behave and not repeat the offense in the future.

BLAZE

In Tailor Shop Does Considerable Damage

Several Suits Destroyed At Wuchner Shop

Fire Hydrant Was Out Of Commission

An explosion of gasoline in the tailor shop of Edward Wuchner in the Curtis House annex at 9:20 Saturday morning resulted in a blaze which destroyed several suits of clothes and badly damaged the rear of the shop. Mr. Wuchner had been cleaning some clothes and a can of gasoline was on his work-bench. Nearby was an iron under which was a gas light. The gasoline came in contact with the blaze and in an instant the room was filled with flames. Before the proprietor could get the clothing out of the burning room several suits were consumed.

Hydrant Not Working

The fire department was called and a line of hose was laid from the corner of Gay and High street, but this was of no avail as the hydrant was out of commission and not a drop of water could be obtained. As a last resort a garden hose was brought into service at the rear of the building and with the assistance of the chemicals the blaze was extinguished. Spectators carried the stock of goods from the room and consequently it was not damaged by the fire and water.

The loss was covered by insurance.
